

LI COALITION FOR LIFE EDUCATIONAL TRUST FUND
HIGH SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIP AWARD - 2023

Awards: $400.00 and $300.00

Purpose: To challenge young people to become actively engaged in raising social awareness and responsibility for human life.

Eligibility: This scholarship is open to all current high school seniors residing on Long Island (Nassau & Suffolk), New York.

Task: Young people can influence their peers to become active members in movements they consider to be important. More and more young people today are actively pro-life, defending the life and dignity of the preborn, the elderly and the disabled.

What are some of the ways that you have used to promote the respect for human life message among your peers, encouraging them in the respect for human life?

REQUIREMENTS

For items #1 & #2: Submit activities that took place any time from July 2022 through the time you turn in your application. You can use as much space as needed for the descriptions, but you will be evaluated on the content, not the length of, your responses. Provide photos, grades, feedback, screenshots, weblinks, etc., as applicable.

1. List your participation in respect for human life event(s).

Participation in at least one event is required. The event should preferably be public outreach (e.g. a vigil, rally, pro-life information table at school event).

2. Describe a specific activity or action you performed that helped engage others with the respect life message. Explain when, where, what, and how you incorporated the respect for human life message. For example, this might be part of a class assignment (speech, debate, video, artwork), club activity, or other project (e.g. social media posts).

3. Write a 300-500 word essay about your experience when carrying out scholarship requirements #1 & #2. This may be, e.g., your personal challenges with an activity or reactions of others to your presentation/project or what you've learned preparing for this scholarship.
