It's been a number of months since we last published this column as for some reason letter-to-the-editor writing has slowed down. Nonetheless we have a number of pro-life letter writers to recognize at this time: Anita Guariglia, Robert L. Dougherty, John McGowan, Lawrence Longua, Edward McKee, Catherine N. Dillon, and Frederick R. Bedell Jr., all in The Long Island Catholic; Dr. Lisa A. Honkanen and Charles Akalski Jr. in Newsday; Thomas Callan in the New York Post; and Thomas E. Dennely in National Catholic Register. Congratulations to successfully published letter writers and thanks to all who wrote pro-life letters to the editor, published or not. Thanks also to The Long Island Catholic for being the most consistent publisher of pro-life letters on Long Island. Please keep writing to all media and please send us your published letters.

Congratulations! Allison O'Brien has been appointed Director of the Respect Life Office for the Diocese of Rockville Centre. The L.I. ## Boycott Update

American Life League's STOPP REPORT as of 1/05/2011 states that Kohl's and Mrs. Fields have withdrawn their support of Planned Parenthood and are off "The Boycott List." Life Decisions International, publisher of the list, reports, that as of 12/29/2010 Trader Joe's is also no longer on "The Boycott List." These companies had financially supported Planned Parenthood Federation of America (or one of its local affiliates) within the past 5 years, hence their former place on "The Boycott List." Your voice was heard. For more info contact LDI at www.fightpp.org or 540-631-0380.

Congratulations to Jean E. Head, R.N., National Right to Life (NRTL) Vice President for International Affairs and United Nations Representative. Jean is a 2009-2010 winner of the Gerard Health Foundation Life Prizes Award. Readers will recognize Jean, an obstetrics nurse and Director of Manhattan RTL, as a force for pro-life action in N.Y.S. for many decades. Jean holds many titles with NRTL. Current duties include representing NRTL at the United Nations (UN) and traveling the world working to keep abortion-promoting language out of UN documents, declarations and treaties.

Others to be congratulated as 2009-2010 winners of the Gerard Award are Douglas Johnson, the Terri Schiavo Life & Hope Network, Marie Smith, Kristan Hawkins and Reverend Alveda King.

CHOOSE LIFE!

FEDERAL LEGISLATION

MEDICARE & MEDICAID HEAD DR. DONALD BERWICK, The Hill reported 12/17/10, began a series of closed door meetings with Administration officials and "specialty medical societies" to discuss healthcare implementation.

Back in November, Berwick issued regulations to include "voluntary advance care planning" in each patient's (Medicare authorized) yearly exam. LifeNews.com reports - "the federal government (will pay) doctors to advise patients on possible end-of-life care treatment options. The advice may include advanced directives to authorize withdrawal of lifesaving medical treatment or, in three states, assisted suicide." Rules for this advice, called "Death Panels" by some pro-lifers, had been dropped by the Democrats during the Obamacare debate.

Rep. Blumenauer, [D-OR], an assisted suicide and euthanasia advocate, had sent a memo (reported in LifeNews.com 12/5/10 and in the N.Y. Times 12/26/10) to his supporters alerting them to the upcoming Berwick regulations, but noted- "We would ask that you not broadcast this accomplishment...it seems that no press or blogs have discovered it..." Then LifeNews.com and the NY Times released the memo. The White House first replied the 2003 (Bush) Medicare Prescription Drug law authorized the same counseling, but withdrew the new rule on 1/5/2011.

PRO-LIFE LEGISLATION - As of 1/15/2011, we await the re-introduction of Reps. Smith & Lipinski's NO TAXPAYER FUNDING FOR ABORTION ACT. (Planned Parenthood reported (2008 data) that abortions increased to 324,008, referrals for adoption dropped to 2,405 and government grants totaled $363 million.).

PRO-LIFE LEGISLATION - The TITLE X ABORTION PROVIDER PROHIBITION ACT was reintroduced 1/7/2011 as HR 217 by Rep. Pence.

ACTION-SAMPLE MESSAGE - to your House Member: Please support HR 217, to end Title X funding for abortion.

NEW YORK STATE LEGISLATION

OPPOSE THE REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH ACT. This legislation contains extreme provisions which actually go far beyond Roe v Wade.

ACTION-SAMPLE MESSAGE to both your Senator and Assembly Member:

Please strongly oppose the Reproductive Health Act. This bill would ensure that abortions are legal throughout all nine months of pregnancy, allow post-viability abortions to be performed on an out-patient basis in clinics, allow non-physicians to perform abortions, and could eliminate conscience protection of religious hospitals which refuse to perform abortions.

CONTACT INFORMATION: Find on page 8 of this issue of Life News.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN SUFFOLK: No date set, as of 1/18/2011, for the 6th Legislative District, Suffolk seat vacated when pro-life Daniel Losquadro was elected to represent the 1st Assembly District. Call Suffolk Board of Elections 631-852-4500 for date and names of candidates.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN NASSAU ON TUES. MARCH 15 to fill the position of Mayor in Mineola, vacated when Jack Martins became N.Y.S. Senator representing the 7th Senatorial District.

Village Trustees will also be voted on. For names of candidates running in Mineola call the Clerk, Village of Mineola, at 516-746-0750.

TO HELP PRO-LIFE CANDIDATES: Ask candidate's position on pro-life concerns, pass on the information, and get out the vote. LICL will send Candidate Questionnaires (CQ). You may obtain a CQ to hand carry. Contact mariemawn@yahoo.com. or 631-588-0168. For candidate replies call Long Island Coalition for Life at 631-243-1435.

Note: Martins won by 451 votes in a race where 85,000 ballots were cast, highlighting the importance of getting out each and every vote.

Permission is given to copy and distribute the 2011 listing of Federal and New York State officials listed on Page 8.

HEALTH & SCIENCE

Perinatal Hospice

With the increased use of prenatal testing, more and more parents are faced with the heartbreaking news that their unborn child may have a terminal illness. Parents are increasingly being counseled to abort their child. There is, however, a more compassionate alternative—perinatal hospice.

Bill Saunders writes at LifeNews.com (4 Jan 2011, 'Give Parents Perinatal Hospice Option Instead of Abortion'), "With perinatal hospice, families are given the gift of time to truly cherish the life of the child and allow him or her to be a part of their family, even if it is for a short time. Unfortunately, most couples are not presented the option of perinatal hospice and opt instead to terminate the pregnancy; only 20% of these couples opt to bring the pregnancy to term. These parents are often pressured to make the decision quickly in light of the complications surrounding late term abortions. Yet the statistics show that parents who choose abortion because of a prenatal diagnosis have great regret. The intensity of their grief is so great that it can cause psychological harm. This doesn't have to be the case; perinatal hospice is a nurturing option for both the child and the family. When given the option, 80% of these parents choose perinatal. These programs support the family emotionally and give them the tools to say goodbye to their baby. This is in stark contrast to the abrupt separation that occurs when a pregnancy is terminated. Perinatal hospice gives the family time to hold the newborn, and to collect photos and mementos to remember him by. These little treasures can be a beautiful gift during the time of bereavement that follows the child's passing. And the gift of time is invaluable."

The FAQ section of the website www.perinatalhospice.org contains valuable information for parents, family members, friends and medical personnel. It states, "For parents who receive a life-limiting prenatal diagnosis and wish to continue their pregnancies, perinatal palliative care helps them embrace whatever life their baby may have, before and after birth. This support begins at the time of diagnosis, not just after the baby is born. It can be thought of as 'hospice in the womb' (including birth planning and preliminary medical decision-making before the baby is born) as well as more traditional hospice and palliative care at home after birth (if the baby lives longer than a few minutes or hours). Palliative care can also include medical treatments intended to improve the baby's life. This approach supports families through the rest of the pregnancy, through decision-making before and after birth, and through their grief. Perinatal hospice also enables families to make meaningful plans for the baby's life, birth, and death, honoring the baby as well as the baby's family. Perinatal hospice is not a place. It is more a frame of mind. It can be easily incorporated into standard pregnancy and birth care. Ideally it is a comprehensive team approach that includes obstetricians, perinatologists, labor and delivery nurses, neonatologists, NICU staff, chaplains/pastors and social workers (Hoeldtke & Calhoun 2001, Calhoun et al 2003), as well as genetic counselors, midwives, therapists and traditional hospice professionals. Perinatal hospice is a beautiful and practical response to one of the most heartbreaking challenges of prenatal testing."

There is a link on the perinatalhospice.org FAQ page to perinatal hospice programs by state, and it encourages readers to print their material and give it to caregivers who are not familiar with the program. There are resources for both parents and caregivers. A new book, A Gift of Time was released January 2011, and is available in hardcover, paperback and as an e-book.

Saunders reported on LifeNews.com that currently only the state of Minnesota requires that parents be made aware of the option of perinatal hospice "when they are given the tragic news of their unborn child's fatal anomalies...Americans United for Life just drafted the Perinatal Hospice Information Act Model Legislation & Policy Guide to be used as a prototype for state legislators who wish to ensure that families are aware of the support that is available when they find themselves in this tragic situation."

INTRODUCING FEMINISTS CHOOSING LIFE OF NEW YORK (FCLNY) - Your Invitation to Join

Feminists Choosing Life of New York has teamed with The Center for Bioethics and Culture to educate the public about the potential dangers and complications to women who donate their eggs for in-vitro fertilization or research. The documentary film, "Eggsploitation," produced by Jennifer Lahl, National Director of the Center for Bioethics and Culture calls attention to the dangers of dehumanizing women, treating them as "farms" and their eggs as a commodity, through the personal narratives of women who have experienced the procedure of harvesting their eggs and who have been harmed. FCLNY sponsored a showing of the film in Buffalo. The film is available for purchase at www.eggsploitation.com.

The women in this film give human face to the arguments that FCLNY is trying to make in their lawsuit, FCLNY vs. Empire State Stem Cell Committee. This case attempts to prevent New York State from compensating women for donating their eggs for research. The case, as of 1/15/2011, is in the appeals stage.

FCLNY welcomes new members who recognize that in every abortion there are two victims, who believe that authentic feminists are pro-life. Please call 585-234-5416 or go to feministschoosinglife.org and join or to ask about the FCLNY lobby day in Albany on 4/12/11. PS--FCLNY has challenged its friends and members to DO ONE THING for the pro-life movement and then tell them about it. The DO ONE THING challenge was inspired by a 9/27/1897 letter from Susan B. Anthony to Laura Reynolds regarding the Suffrage Movement. Susan B. Anthony's words are relevant today in our fight to save the unborn from abortion, "If every woman would, like yourself, do the one thing she knows how to do and has the time to do, as you are setting them the good example, a great deal would be done for our good cause"

Kelly Brunacini, FCLNY exec.dir
